LEARNING OUTCOMES

Objectives

The objective of this program is to provide the student with an overview of marketing management in the company. This will be based on the concept and scope of marketing in the company. Subsequently, marketing will be analysed from a strategic point of view.

More specifically, the student:

- Will know the different factors of the environment (macro and micro) that affect the commercial management of the company, as well as the different factors that affect the competitive position of the company, defining competition in its broadest sense.
- Will be able to precisely define the market and select that part of it that is most interesting to the company according to its resources and capabilities.
- Will be in a position to make forecasts of future demand in the markets in which a company may be interested.
- Will be able to identify the factors that affect the purchasing behaviour of consumers and organisations, as well as the stages through which both a consumer and an organisation pass in their purchase decision process.
- Will be able to segment the market and analyse the different positioning strategies.
- Will get knowledge of specific strategies related to the four components of operational marketing: product, price, distribution and communication.

ASSESSMENT METHODS (Instruments, criteria and percentages)*ORDINARY EXAMINATION DIET

The preferred system will be the continuous assessment system. Based on this system, 60% of the final grade will correspond to a final exam in which the student's theoretical knowledge will be evaluated. The exam will consist of two parts: a series of multiple-choice questions and a battery of true/false questions, in which the student will have to justify the questions he has answered as false. For this purpose, a written and/or oral evaluation of the theoretical subject matter will be carried out. A final exam will be taken in the ordinary call and another in the extraordinary call.

The other 40% of the grade corresponds to the internship the student has done during the official academic year. Specifically, the grade will be a compendium of the work the student has submitted during the four-month period, self-employment activities and compulsory attendance at practical classes. The student's final grade will be the sum of the grade obtained in the theoretical part and the practical part, as long as the student has passed at least 1/3 in each of the parts. The grades of the continuous assessment practices are maintained for both calls.

The practical examination of the final single assessment test may include a series of questions and practical exercises in relation to the subject matter and the practical material worked on during the course. It is recommended that you consult the exam call that will be published in advance of the exam date.

Everything related to evaluation will be governed by Article 8.2 of the Regulations for the evaluation and qualification of students in force at the University of Granada, which can be consulted at: http://secretariageneral.ugr.es/bougr/pages/bougr112/\_doc/examenes/!

DESIGN FOR ALL: SPECIFIC NEEDS FOR EDUCATIONAL SUPPORT (NEAE): Following

In accordance with the recommendations of the CRUE and the Secretariat of Inclusion and Diversity of the UGR, the systems for the acquisition and evaluation of competencies included in this teaching guide will be applied in accordance with the principle of design for all, facilitating learning and the demonstration of knowledge according to the needs and functional diversity of the students.

SINGLE FINAL ASSESSMENT (evaluación única final)

For students who take the final single evaluation referred to in Article 8 of the Regulations for the Evaluation and Qualification of Students of the University of Granada (approved by the Governing Council on 20 May 2013), it will consist of both theoretical and practical evaluation tests related to the contents of the subject and to the practical work carried out during the academic year. The grading system of both parts, that is, theoretical and practical, will have the same weighting as in the case of continuous evaluation students.

The practical examination of the extraordinary evaluation and the final single evaluation exams, can include a series of questions and practical exercises related to the subject and to the practical material worked during the course. It is recommended that you consult the exam call that will be published in advance of the exam date.

Students who take the final single evaluation referred to in Article 8 of the rules for evaluation and qualification of students of the University of Granada (approved by the Governing Council on 9 November 2016), must apply within the first two weeks of the course, or within two weeks of registration if it has taken place after the start of the course. The student will request it, through the electronic procedure, to the Director of the Department, alleging and accrediting the reasons for not being able to follow the continuous assessment system.

The Director of the Department to which the request was addressed, after hearing the faculty responsible for the subject, will decide on the request within ten working days. After this period has elapsed without the student having received an express written response, the request will be understood to have been accepted.

Everything related to evaluation will be governed by Article 8.2 of the Regulations for evaluation and qualification of students in force at the University of Granada, which can be consulted at http://secretariageneral.ugr.es/bougr/pages/bougr112/\_doc/examenes/!

It will also be necessary in this unique evaluation that the student obtains at least 1/3 in each part in order to be eligible to pass the course. This criterion will be maintained for all the ordinary and extraordinary calls.

ADDITIONAL INFORMATION

The student must be very aware that in any work submitted by the student it is totally forbidden to make a literal copy ("copy and paste") or a literal translation of content taken from Internet information sources, or from any other type of source. A literal copy of content and/or without proper citation will result in the cancellation of all continuous assessment and a failure of the course. It is highly recommended that students consult other sources in order to compare data, go deeper into concepts, discover new ideas, etc. In the event that a commentary on these consultations is required, the student will have to indicate the sources used in the form of a bibliographical reference at the bottom of the page following some style of citation (for example, the APA citation style), bearing in mind that a personal commentary on the ideas extracted is always required.

The system of qualifications will be expressed by means of a numerical qualification in accordance with the provisions of article 5 of Royal Decree 1125/2003, of 5 September, which establishes the European system of credits and the system of qualifications for official university qualifications valid in Spain.

Everything related to evaluation will be governed by the Regulations for the evaluation and qualification of students in force at the University of Granada, which can be consulted at: <http://sl.ugr.es/09FY>

The lecturers will make the general communications to the group that they consider appropriate through the PRADO platform of the University of Granada (<https://prado.ugr.es>), so it is recommended that the student consults this platform regularly.
