ASSESSMENT METHODS (Instruments, criteria and percentages)

ORDINARY EXAMINATION DIET

- In line with the rules of assessment and grading of the students of the University of Granada (latest modification approved by the Governing Board on 26th October 2016, Article 7th), the assessment of students' academic performance will reflect public, objective and impartial criteria, and will preferably be continuous and ongoing.
- Moreover, the assessment tools used in this course will be sufficiently diversified.
- The following assessment procedure will be used:
 - Written Tests: 70 percent.
 - This category of tests will be mainly based on the theoretical contents of the course and will consist of a multiple-choice test.
 - Class participation and Worksheets based on class activities: 30 percent.
 - These activities will be based on a practical approach (Analyses of Case Studies, Seminars and other exercises proposed by the lecturer).
 - The lecturer in charge of the group will freely choose which of the practical contents and activities described in this guide.
 - The Worksheets may be done individually or in group.
- Students must obtain a minimum mark of 4 points out of 10 on the Written Tests (on average) in order to add to the final mark the results obtained on the Class participation and the Worksheets.
- The continuous and ongoing assessment is compulsory.
 - However, there is the possibility of applying for a single final assessment.
 - In doing so, students must fulfil the requirements and must follow the procedure set out in Article 8th of the rules of assessment and grading of the students of the University of Granada (latest modification approved by the Governing Board on 26th October 2016).
- Those students not sitting the first call exams (ordinary call) will get "Not Presented" as their final mark of this course.

EXTRAORDINARY EXAMINATION DIET

- The students who sit the exam during the extraordinary call, the mark obtained in the exam will have a 100 percent weight over the final mark of the course.
- The structure of the exam of the extraordinary assessment will consist of a multiple-choice test evaluating both the theoretical and the practical contents of the course.
- Those students not sitting the extraordinary assessment session will get "Not Presented" as their final mark of this course.

SINGLE FINAL ASSESSMENT (evaluación única final)

- With a weight of 100 percent over the final mark of the course, the structure of the Single Final Assessment will consist of a multiple-choice test evaluating both the theoretical and the practical contents of the course.
