ASSESSMENT METHODS (Instruments, criteria and percentages)

ORDINARY EXAMINATION DIET

ORDINARY ASSESSMENT

Instruments

EV-I1. Writing exams: essays, short answers, multiple choice, case analysis, problem solving.

EV-I2. Oral exams: presentations (individually or in teams), interview, debates.

EV-I3. Observation scales.

EV-I4. Portfolios, reports, diaries, Learning Guides, recessions.

Criteria:

EV-C1. Domain of the theoretical and practical contents set for the course including a critical analysis.

EV-C2. Performance on the individual and group works in terms of their quality of presentation, writing, ideas, creativity, scientific value, rationale and references.

EV-C3. Implication level, attitude and participation in class, tutorial and group work sessions.

EV-C4. Attendance to seminars, classes, conferences, use of office hours, quality and scientific rigor, clarity and utility of essays and Learning Guides and Recessions.

Percentage over the final score:

The evaluation and scoring system used will be the one established in article 5 of Royal Decree 1125/2003, of September 5, which establishes the European system of credits and the system of Qualifications in university degrees of an official nature and validity throughout the national territory. The overall final score will result from adding the weighted score of the following categories set:

1. Written evaluative test: between 50% and 60%.
2. Individual/group work of the student: between 40% and 50%.
3. Participation and/or attendance to seminars, research projects or other activities: 10%.

The final score that will appear on the official records (i.e., Acta in Spanish) will result from adding the partial scores from each category. The final score will result from calculating the weighted average of categories one and two, as long as they meet two conditions, that is, they reach at least 50% of the score in play on categories one and two and they attend 80% of the planned seminars to cover the practical activities. The option "Not taken" in the official record will be assigned to those students not covering at least 50% of the total credits offered between categories one and two. Those students interested in obtaining up to 10% of the final score (i.e., category 3) through participation in other voluntary activities will have to communicate such intention to the teacher in advance in order to estimate how much that activity is worthy in points.

Those students who do not comply with the regimen of attendance to small groups seminars and/or have not passed the contents evaluated through individual work and group work, may decide to retake the extraordinary exam under the following assessment and scoring conditions:

1. Written/oral exam of the theoretical contents between 50% and 60%
2. Written/oral exam of the applied contents between 40% and 50%

To pass the subject it will be necessary, again, to obtain a minimum score of 50% on each one of the aforementioned categories.

EXTRAORDINARY EXAMINATION DIET

Instruments:

(the same as those specified under the ordinary evaluation)

Criteria:

(the same as those specified under the ordinary evaluation)

Percentage over the final score

Those students who meet the requirements set to access the ordinary exam (at least 80% of attendance to the seminars) will be able to retake the extraordinary exam. In this case students will have to retake the theoretical part and/or the practical seminars not initially passed.

Those students who do not meet the minimum attendance required and/or have not passed the contents evaluated through individual and group essays and activities, will be able to retake the extraordinary exam based on the following conditions::

1. Written/oral exam of the theoretical contents between 50% and 60%
2. Written/oral exam of the applied contents between 40% and 50%

In order to pass the subject it will be necessary, again, to get a minimum score of 50% on each one of the two exams mentioned. In case the student does not reach that minimum the final score in the official record will result from adding the scores obtained on each category, being the highest possible score 4.9 points in a 10 points scale, which means fail the course.
