- To assess the foreign language curriculum in Primary Education, performance, student learning and achievement through a variety of assessment and self-assessment techniques (CDM7.10).
- To teach non-linguistic subjects in the foreign language at primary school level (C3, CDM7.10).

PLANNED LEARNING ACTIVITIES

THEORY SYLLABUS

THEORY:

- Unit 1: Teaching the phonological and phonetic aspects of the foreign language: sounds, accent, rhythm and intonation in texts and oral messages.
- Unit 2: Teaching the basic grammatical rules and aspects of the foreign language. Morphological features, word composition and its derivation. Identification of the above aspects in written texts in the corresponding FL.
- Unit 3: Teaching vocabulary and the most relevant semantic aspects of the foreign language in different types of oral and written texts.
- Unit 4: Teaching the sociolinguistic and pragmatic aspects in communicative situations (oral and written) and the functional value of the language used in the oral and written texts analysed.
- Unit 5: Teaching the communicative functions of the foreign language (speech acts). Communicative situations containing expressions used to greet, introduce oneself, say goodbye, make appointments, invite, accept and refuse invitations, suggest, recommend, apologise, narrate and describe events in the present, past and future, etc.
- Unit 6: Teaching oral and written communication. Reading and analysis of texts.
- Unit 7: The Primary Education curriculum with special attention to the area of Foreign Language. The Common European Framework of Reference for Languages (CEFR).
- Unit 8: The teaching unit in Primary Education: objectives, contents, activities, materials and assessment in the FL.

PRACTICAL SYLLABUS

PRACTICE:

1. Identification and discrimination of phonological, semantic, morphosyntactic elements,

- punctuation marks, language functions and the way it can be taught.
2. Application of grammatical rules in the production of examples and the way it can be taught.
 3. Composition of guided and free texts based on given topics and models with varied vocabulary and the way it can be taught.
 4. Sociocultural features connected with the texts and communication situations worked on and sociocultural aspects of everyday life conveyed by the foreign language. Rules and behaviour specific to the countries where the foreign language is spoken in contextualised situations by means of examples of communicative situations and how this can be taught.
 5. The components of communicative situations and interaction with others and how this can be taught. Intervention in role-plays or simulations and analysis of the functional elements in the role-plays performed in class.
 6. Reading and analysing different types of texts and levels and recognising their parts, differentiating textual and contextual elements, observing how they are organised, recognising the elements that give coherence and cohesion to the discourse and how this can be taught.
 7. Analysis of the curriculum.
 8. Preparation of teaching units and selection of teaching and learning activities.

TEACHING METHODS

- MD01 - Aprendizaje cooperativo. Desarrollar aprendizajes activos y significativos de forma cooperativa.
- MD02 - Aprendizaje por proyectos. Realización de proyectos para la resolución de un problema, aplicando habilidades y conocimientos adquiridos.
- MD03 - Estudio de casos. Adquisición de aprendizajes mediante el análisis de casos reales o simulados.
- MD04 - Aprendizaje basado en problemas. Desarrollar aprendizajes activos a través de la resolución de problemas.

ASSESSMENT METHODS (Instruments, criteria and percentages)ORDINARY EXAMINATION DIET*ORDINARY ASSESSMENT SESSION

In this modality, 80% of attendance is compulsory. This is a system of ongoing assessment that must be based on the combination of different activities. In order to guarantee that the ongoing assessment is diversified, none of its tests or activities must count more than 70% of the final grade of the subject area (Article 7).

Assessment criteria

EV-C1: Verification of the command of the theoretical and practical contents and their critical elaboration.

EV-C2: Assessment of the developed activities, individually or in group, paying attention to the presentation, elaboration and clarity of the students' ideas, as well as structure and scientific level, creativity, justification of the discussed themes, critical capacity, and the update of the consulted bibliography.

EV-C3: Level of students' implication and attitude manifested in their participation, oral presentations and discussions, as well as the elaboration of individual and group works, also during the whole-class sessions.

Instruments of assessment

EV-I1: Written tests: essays, short answers, case studies, problem solving in the corresponding FL.

EV-I2: Oral tests: project presentations (individual or group work), interviews, discussions in the corresponding FL. EV-I3: Observation scales.

EV-I4: Portfolios, reports, diaries.

Description of the tests and percentage values of the final grade:

Exam on the theoretical contents: 60% (it is necessary to obtain a mark equivalent to or superior than 5 out of 10 in order to consider the practical activities).

Practical activities (40% of the final grade). The global mark of the practical activities must be valued more than 50% in order to be added to the theoretical percentage).

- Practical activity 1: 20%
- Practical activity 2: 20%

To satisfactorily pass the subject, the students must get a minimum of 5 out of 10 in the theoretical exam (60%) and in the practical activities (40%).

In the final grade the use and the competence of the corresponding FL demonstrated during the term will be taken into account (B1 level).

EXTRAORDINARY EXAMINATION DIETEXTRAORDINARY ASSESSMENT SESSION

It consists of a second annual call for the subject area. It will be carried out in a single academic act on the official date of the extraordinary session, which will be divided as such:

1. Exam based on the theoretical knowledge: 50%
2. Exam based on the practical knowledge: 50%

The final grade will consist of the sum of the two percentages. Passing the subject can only be achieved when the mark is equivalent to or superior than 5 out of 10 in each of its parts.

The grade system will be expressed by means of numerical marks, in accordance with article 5 of the "R.D." 1125/2003, September 5th, established by the European system for the credits and the grading system for official university degrees, which must be valid in the national territory. The final grade will correspond to the balanced score of the different aspects and activities which comprise the assessment criteria.

SINGLE FINAL ASSESSMENT (evaluación única final)SINGLE FINAL ASSESSMENT

Students who cannot comply with the ongoing evaluation method (ordinary assessment session) for work reason, health conditions, special needs or any other justified cause, will be able to apply for this type of assessment. In order to be qualified for the single final assessment, the students must contact, electronically (online), the Director of the Department for this particular subject area (or different departments if the subject is shared by different departments). The student must properly justify their reasons for not being able to follow the ordinary assessment session (Article 8).

Assessment criteria

EV-C1: Verifying the knowledge of theoretical and practical contents as well as the critically elaboration of them.

In the final grade the spoken and written accuracy applied throughout the examination will be considered.

Assessment instruments

EV-11: Written tests: essay, short answer, objective, hypothetical case, problem solution in the corresponding FL.

EV-12: Oral tests: presentation of assignments (individually or in groups), interviews, debates in the corresponding FL.

Description of the tests and percentage values of the final grade:

It is carried out during one academic act on the official date set for the ordinary assessment. It consists of:

1. Exam on the theoretical knowledge: 70%
2. Exam on the practical knowledge: 30%

The final grade will be the total sum of the abovementioned percentages only if the student gets a minimum of 5 in each of its parts.

ADDITIONAL INFORMATIONADDITIONAL INFORMATION*Evaluation in case of incidents

Regarding the assessment in case of unexpected incidents, the current regulations approved by the University of Granada will be taken into account

(<https://www.ugr.es/~minpet/pages/enpdf/normativaevaluacioncalificacion.pdf>).

Extraordinary evaluation by examining board.

The student who wishes to be assessed by an examining board must apply in writing to the Director of the Department. The request must be submitted at least fifteen working days prior to the start date of the final exam period of each corresponding semester, renouncing the grades they had previously got in any of the various tests carried out in the continuous assessment. In the case of undergraduate subjects with teaching shared by several Departments, the student will address the request to any of them, and this must be resolved by the Director of the Department to which the request is addressed. The assessment procedure by an examining board will only be applicable to the final exams (Article 10).

Evaluation of students with special needs or other educational supports (in Spanish, NEAE)

In the case of students with special needs or other specific educational supports, the evaluation tests must be adapted to their needs, in accordance with the evaluation regulations of the University of Granada. <https://www.ugr.es/~minpet/pages/enpdf/normativaevaluacioncalificacion.pdf>

DATES OF EXAMS

The dates of exams are listed on the official calendar approved by the faculty, which is available on the faculty's web- site.

TEACHING SUPPORT

This course has online support on the PRADO platform.

Regulations for the evaluation and grading of students at the University of Granada.

Consolidated text of the Regulations approved by the Governing Council Agreement of May 20, 2013 (BOUGR no. 71, of May 27, 2013) and modified by the Governing Council Agreements of February 3, 2014 (BOUGR no. 78, of February 10, 2014); of June 23, 2014 (BOUGR no.83, of June 25, 2014) and of October 26, 2016 (BOUGR no. 112, of November 9, 2016); includes the corrections of errors of December 19, 2016 and of May 24, 2017. Article 15. Originality of the papers and tests.

1. The University of Granada will encourage respect for intellectual property and will convey to students that plagiarism is a practice contrary to the principles governing university education. To this end, it will proceed to recognize the authorship of the work and its protection in accordance with intellectual property as established by current legislation.
2. Plagiarism, understood as the presentation of a work done by another person as one's own or the copying of texts without citing their source and presenting them as one's own elaboration, will automatically lead to the numerical grade of zero in the subject in which it had been detected, regardless of the rest of the grades that the student had previously got. This consequence must be understood without prejudice to the disciplinary responsibilities that students who plagiarize may incur.
3. The work and materials submitted by students must be signed with an explicit statement in which the originality of the work is assumed, understood in the sense that the student has not used sources without properly citing them.
4. The TURNITIN tool will be used in the written works.
